Mrs. J. A. Bivens had as her guest the past week her sister, Mrs. Sam Randolph of Paoli. On Thursday Mrs. Bivens, her guest and Miss Virginia Bivens motored to Woodford, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Daw Taylor. This day being Virginia's tenth birthday, a large birthday cake was taken out to the Taylor home and with her little cousins, Catherine, John Preston and Paul Taylor, she celebrated this happy event at their home instead of a party here, as had been planned. Mrs. Randolph returned to her home in Paoli Friday.

Guests for the evening were: The Misses Virginia Akers, Catherine Lacy, Maudie Edison, Florence and Clara Crowwell, Ruby Hayes; Messrs. Carl Grunert, Lois Scivally, Leroy Hoffmann, Madison Dawson, David Dawson, Ernest Enloe, Marcus Pugh and Herman Enloe.

Master Charles Wesley Dobbins, Jr., was the honor guest at a party given by his mother, Mrs. Charles Dobbins, Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Kindergarten games featured the afternoon's entertainment. The dining room was decorated with flowers and the table was artistically arranged with a miniature artificial pond, in the center of which was a large cake on a stand, representing a huge mushroom. The pond also contained small fishes and ducks. The place cards were individual birthday cakes, each with a lighted candle, and here the little guests found striped horns as souvenirs of the happy occasion. An ice course was served the honor guest, Ruth Tom Frame, Katherine Louise Poland, Mary Lilla Madden, Kattie Brown, Grace Carr, Evelyn Wainwright, Louise Johnson, Claire Tucker, Jerry McLish, Bobby Kyle, Price Skipworth, Linne Tyler, Raymond McCullom, Weston White, Joe Cooper, Frederick Alexander and Percy Johns.

Had Her Trained.

The Bachelor—So you are married, eh?

The Benedict—Yes; been married for nearly six months.

The Bachelor—Got your wife pretty well trained by this time, I suppose.

The Benedict—That's what. I've got her so I can make her do anything she wants to.

"I was sitting in the smoking room compartment next to two men who were discussing the advisability of buying themselves a drink. One of them called the porter and asked him if it was possible to purchase liquor in that part of the country."

"Yes, sah," he replied, "you'll get it here in New Mexico, but not in Arizona."

"So the two began to plan what they would have. After a number of tentative suggestions they decided on a pair of highballs."

"Porter," ordered the one who had first brought up the subject, "bring us two highballs—with ginger ale."

"Can't have it," replied the porter. "It's against the law, sah."

"Why, didn't you just tell me a moment ago that we could?"

"Yes, I told you that, but while y'all was makin' up yo' minds we done crossed the line into Arizona."

IN SUITS

Never before have the styles been so becoming to all figures. Suit models come in great variety including three major types—the plain tailored effects, the outing or sports designs, and dressier models.

Jackets of suits are either single or double breasted. In many of them there is a pronounced flare below the waist.

The sports or outing suits are very charming with their high collars and simple sleeves, and with their pleats, shirrings and belts at the waist line.

Some of the dressier models possess large collars that either button close or lie flat; when open, these collars give a shoulder cape effect.

High cuffs, fancy cuffs of the bell variety and partial belts are other features to be found in the new suits.

IN COATS

A wide range of types and silhouettes make the coats for fall interesting to every figure and every personality.

Here again are three approved effects. Fashion authorities appear to give equal emphasis to all three.

Many women will choose the loose type with sweeping fullness, large roomy sleeves and generous collars and cuffs.

Others will select belted coats, hanging full and loose in the back; in some models belted only in the front or on the sides; in other models belted all around. Here again large collars, deep cuffs and full lines are among the style features.

The third type of coat hangs straight and loose from the shoulders and gives a graceful long line from the waist to the bottom of the coat.

Attractive buttons, large and small, and fur trimmings in great variety, embellish many of the models in both coats and suits.
